From Research to Teaching

The Basics of Good Teaching

TARGET GROUP  Forschungsgruppenleiter*innen / Research Group Leaders, Postdocs

TARGET  This course aims to facilitate your teaching entry by introducing some fundamentals of professional academic teaching and by giving impulses how to transfer them into your teaching.

TOPICS  Of course, good teaching grounds significantly on teaching experience. As in many other areas, the principle “learning by doing” applies. Nevertheless, research and teaching practice offer important insights how teaching succeeds. For this purpose, we consider the following topics: Students’ motivation, skills-oriented conception of teaching, structuring and methodical design of courses. Alongside, the participants will have the opportunity to reflect their individual teaching style.
