

Heading for new horizons

How to carry on your career after the PhD

TARGET GROUP	Doctoral Researchers in their final year
TARGET	Your PhD is about to come to an end. Some of you may energetically search for a new assignment, others may feel irritated and ask themselves if they should carry on with scientific research or should opt for something completely different such as a managerial job in the industry or founding their own start-up business. Without a doubt, changeover is a challenge! The „Heading for new horizons“ workshop will help you to find your way through the jungle of transition and will enable you to make a smart and sustainable decision on how your career will carry on after your PhD.
TOPICS	The workshop will help you to find out more about your competencies, capabilities, skills, professional visions, interests and motivation. Furthermore, you will get an idea in which professional setting you want to carry on with your career, what role you preferably will play, what values matter to you most and how you can use them in a professional context. Finally, you will get to know hands-on decision guidance tools that will help you in your upcoming career decisions. The workshop is based on self-imagination and -reflection units, partner group-work and psychological tests.
